

No tempdb Backups

The Database Health Reports don't have any backup information for tempdb since backups are not allowed, and would not even makes sense for tempdb.

Tempdb as its name implies is temporary data that is created and recreated on the fly as queries are being run and as the system starts up. There is nothing here to really miss if it was lost, so backups aren't allowed in SQL Server for tempdb.